

Flying Pig Marathon Internship Program

Join the team behind one of the country's largest and most celebrated race weekends! The Flying Pig Marathon is seeking 4 motivated interns to support our 2027 Spring Semester (January through May). Interns will gain hands-on experience planning, marketing, and executing major events while building valuable skills in a fast-paced environment.

Positions available (see next page for detailed descriptions):

Operations / Sponsorship & Sales / Youth Program & Nutrition

Experience/Skills needed:

- Problem Solving
- Accept change and last-minute needs or decisions
- Willingness to accept new tasks, big or small
- Team oriented
- Strong work ethic
- Strong communication skills
- Interest in event or sports/running industry

Commitment (January 12th – May 28th)

- Attendance at all staff meetings on Tuesdays, 10:00 am – 11:00 pm from January to May.
- Exclusive availability for the Bockfest 5K: March 6, 2027
- Exclusive availability for Flying Pig Marathon Weekend: April 29, 2027 – May 2, 2027.
- Office hours to be determined based on the organization's needs and individual schedules and are typically between 10 and 30 hours per week.
- Weekend and evening hours will also be required throughout the internship.

Compensation: All positions will receive a monthly stipend. We require candidates to be a part of a school certified internship program.

Interested and qualified candidates should email a resume and cover letter to Maggie Geraci at Pig Works no later than October 2, 2026. Please include your first and second choice of position for which you would like to be considered.

Maggie Geraci

Maggie@flyingpigmarathon.com

Pig Works

C/o Xavier University Alumni Center, Suite 126

1507 Dana Ave

Cincinnati, OH 45207

INTERNSHIP JOB DESCRIPTIONS-

PLEASE HAVE TWO IN MIND WHEN APPLYING

Operations Intern:

Job Description-

- Assist with building out the operations production schedule, ensuring the course is marked correctly and additional planning related to course development.
- They will be responsible for contacting and confirming key logistical items including fluid station locations and community partners along the race route.
- Schedule and lead interns in preparing race supplies.
- Work alongside the operations team to execute nine races on marathon weekend consisting of 40,000 participants over 40+ miles.
- The job will include physical labor, especially the week of the race.

Job Requirements-

- Operations interns need to be organized, attentive to detail, willing to work independently and flexible to changing demands and deadlines.
- The job will include physical labor, especially the week of the race.

Sales/Fulfillment Intern:

Job Description-

- Assist Sales and Project Manager in day-to-day tasks
- Research and develop sales tactics for the sales team
- Recruit and sell Course Experience sponsorships, Mile Sponsorships, etc.
- Assist with fulfillment of sponsorship benefits including sponsor recaps
- Research marketing & advertising opportunities and assist with marketing initiatives
- Work closely with sponsors and the social media team to promote sponsor related content mentions
- Assist with charitable donation requests
- Flying Pig Weekend – assist in all aspects, mainly at the Health and Fitness Expo and Post-Race Parties

Job Requirements-

- Willing and able to communicate regularly and professionally on the phone, via email, and cell phone with participants, sponsors, vendors, volunteers and staff members
- Have excellent organizational and communication skills, must also be hard working, outgoing, and have proficient computer skills.
- Ability to work within time deadlines, while maintaining a positive attitude and always looking for an alternative resolution to any issue/problem.
- Proficient computer skills.

Youth Program/Nutrition Intern:

Job Description-

- Assist Youth Program Coordinator in the planning and execution of all youth Flying Pig wellness initiatives including, Kids' Marathon 26th Mile, Fly Up to the 5k and the High School Scholarship program.
- Help create and distribute the "Hog Log" (fitness tracker) and other materials.
- Make site visits to kids' programs and schools in the community, promoting the Flying Pigs' health and wellness initiatives.
- Discuss the benefits of exercise, goal setting and promotion of healthy behaviors through the completion of Flying Pig programs with youth groups.
- Assist with lesson plans and the creation of youth group activities as it relates to programs.
- Help with execution of youth events during race weekend.

Job Requirements-

- Youth Program/Nutrition Intern needs to be organized, outgoing, willing to work with kids, willing to work independently and be flexible to changing demands and deadlines.
- Strong communication skills with people of all ages and abilities.
- Ability to work within time deadlines, while maintaining a positive attitude and always looking for an alternative resolution to any issue/problem.

Interest in nutrition, health and youth fitness is not required, but highly encouraged.